

MINOR IN ART HISTORY

GW's Art History program at the Corcoran School of the Arts and Design is situated right in the heart of Washington, D.C., providing you with culturally rich opportunities to study the arts inside and outside the classroom. Our proximity to many museums and galleries means that some of the most important art institutions in the world—such as the National Gallery of Art—often serve as the backbone of your coursework and study. As an Art History major, you'll learn to apply visual and historical analyses to artworks, as well as to incorporate relevant theoretical and methodological approaches to research. Our curriculum spans ancient to contemporary art, with significant emphasis on research and writing. Graduates of the program have gone on to work at the National Gallery of Art, the Phillips Collection, Foundation for Contemporary Arts, CulturalDC, and the Smithsonian Institute.
