MASTER OF ARTS IN THE FIELD OF MUSEUM STUDIES

Part of the arts and humanities program in the Corcoran School of the Arts and Design of the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences, Museum Studies combines traditional academic training and the practical experience necessary to begin a successful museum career. The program ranks among the top museum training programs in the United States. Students come from a variety of disciplines, from anthropology to history, art history, and the natural sciences. Students complete advanced study and practical work experience through internship affiliations with more than 60 museums and cultural organizations, including the Smithsonian Institution.

ADMISSIONS

Admission deadlines:
- Fall – February 1
- Spring – October 1

Standardized test scores:
The GRE general exam is not required.
- The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), the academic International English Language Testing System (IELTS), or the PTE Academic is required of all applicants except those who hold a bachelor’s, master’s, or doctoral degree from a college or university in the United States or from an institution located in a country in which English is the official language, provided English was the language of instruction.

Prior academic records:
Transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended, whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Unofficial transcripts from all colleges and universities attended must be uploaded to your online application. Official transcripts are required only of applicants who are offered admission.

If transcripts are in a language other than English, English language translations must be provided. The English translation alone should be uploaded into your application.

Statement of purpose:
In a short essay, state your purpose in undertaking graduate study in your chosen field. Include your academic objectives, research interests, and career plans. Also discuss your related qualifications, including collegiate, museum, other professional, and community activities.

A professional resume is required.

Additional Information Statement:
Please submit an additional essay as follows:

Museums are not static institutions. If you enter the museum profession, you will be a part of continuing traditions and maintaining practices and policies, but also of making change. Being as creative and/or as concrete as you would like, complete the following sentences, writing two paragraphs totaling 250-400 words. You are welcome to get inspiration or ideas from recent news accounts or your own observations.

1) The 22nd-century museum will be......
2) The contributions to change that I would like to help make include......
