Group D (research methods)

- PSC 2101: Scope and Methods of Political Science
- PSC 2102: Visualizing and Modeling Politics

Group E (political thought)

- PSC 2105: Major Issues of Western Political Thought I
- PSC 2106: Major Issues of Western Political Thought II
- or PSC 2106W: Major Issues of Western Political Thought II
- PSC 2107: Twentieth-Century Political Thought
- PSC 2108: Freedom and Equality
- PSC 2110: American Political Thought
- PSC 2120: Freedom in American Thought and Popular Culture
- or PSC 2120W: Freedom in American Thought and Popular Culture

Proseminar

- PSC 3192W: Proseminar: Political Science (taken in the junior or senior year)

*In addition to the CCAS General Education Requirements (http://columbian.gwu.edu/undergraduate/advising/gpac) list of courses in social and behavioral sciences, courses in history, peace studies, and women’s, gender, and sexuality studies are considered social sciences for this requirement.

Every major must take at least one PSC 3192W Proseminar: Political Science proseminar, which counts toward the 30-credit requirement but does not satisfy group distribution requirements.

NOTE:

No more than three credits of PSC 2987 Internship: Political Science may be credited toward the major. Additionally, PSC 2987 Internship: Political Science does not satisfy the upper-division distribution requirement.

Specific group credit for offerings of PSC 2990 Selected Topics is determined by the undergraduate advisor.

GENERAL EDUCATION

In addition to the University General Education Requirement, undergraduate students in Columbian College must complete a further, College-specific general education curriculum—Perspective, Analysis, Communication, or G-PAC. Together with the University General Education Requirement, G-PAC engages students in active intellectual inquiry across the liberal arts. Students achieve a set of learning outcomes that enhance their analytical skills, develop their communication competencies, and invite them to participate as responsible citizens who are attentive to issues of culture, diversity, and privilege.

Coursework for the University General Education Requirement is distributed as follows:

- Writing—one approved course in university writing and two approved writing in the disciplines (WID) courses.
- Humanities—one approved course in the humanities that involves critical or creative thinking skills.
- Mathematics or Statistics—one approved course in either mathematics or statistics.
- Natural or Physical Science—one approved laboratory course that employs the process of scientific inquiry.
- Social Sciences—two approved courses in the social sciences.

Coursework for the Columbian College general education curriculum is distributed as follows:

- Arts—one approved course in the arts that involves the study or creation of artwork based on an understanding or interpretation of artistic traditions or knowledge of art in a contemporary context.
- Global or Cross-Cultural Perspective—one approved course that analyzes the ways in which institutions, practices, and problems transcend national and regional boundaries.
- Humanities—one approved course in the humanities that involves critical thinking skills (in addition to the one course in this category required by the University General Education Requirement).
- Local/Civic Engagement—one approved course that develops the values, ethics, disciplines, and commitment to pursue responsible public action.
- Natural or Physical Science—one approved laboratory course that employs the process of scientific inquiry (in addition to the one course in this category required by the University General Education Requirement).
- Oral Communication—one course in oral communication.

Certain courses are approved to fulfill the requirement in more than one of these categories.

Courses taken in fulfillment of G-PAC also may be counted toward majors or minors. Transfer courses taken prior to, but not after, admission to George Washington University may count toward the University General Education Requirement and G-PAC, if those transfer courses are equivalent to GW courses that have been approved by the University and the College.

In addition to the courses listed below, several G-PAC approved Dean’s Seminars and Colloquia may be available for registration as listed on the CCAS Advising website (https://advising.columbian.gwu.edu/general-education-courses).

SPECIAL HONORS

In addition to the general requirements stated under University Regulations, in order to be considered for graduation with Special Honors, a student must have a GPA in upper level Political Science courses of 3.7 or higher.

The GPA in upper level PSC classes is calculated using only PSC upper level or 2000, 3000, and 4000 level classes with no substitution classes and no transfer classes.

The designation of Honors appears on the student’s transcript, not on the diploma.
