MINOR IN SPANISH AND LATIN AMERICAN LANGUAGES, LITERATURES, AND CULTURES

GW and the D.C. area are ideal locations for learning about Spain, Latin America, the Caribbean, and North America. Through the program, students are prepared to be a global citizen from multiple perspectives—courses cover a variety of topics, including imperial and post-colonial literary and cultural history, poetry, drama, cinema, and prose narratives, as well as all aspects of language learning. Students gain access to symposia, exhibits, and film festivals dedicated to furthering the understanding and appreciation of Spanish and Latin cultures. As a graduate, they can go on to pursue careers in a variety of fields, including education, medicine, politics, journalism, publishing, law, and business. Alumni from the program are working within the State Department, non-governmental organizations, the Organization of American States, the United Nations, and many other international organizations.
