No one course may count for more than one category.

GENERAL EDUCATION

In addition to the University General Education Requirement, undergraduate students in Columbian College must complete a further, College-specific general education curriculum—Perspective, Analysis, Communication, or G-PAC. Together with the University General Education Requirement, G-PAC engages students in active intellectual inquiry across the liberal arts. Students achieve a set of learning outcomes that enhance their analytical skills, develop their communication competencies, and invite them to participate as responsible citizens who are attentive to issues of culture, diversity, and privilege.

Course work for the University General Education Requirement is distributed as follows:

- Writing—one course in university writing and two writing-in-the-disciplines (WID) courses;
- Humanities—one approved humanities course that involves critical thinking skills;
- Mathematics or Statistics—one course in either math or statistics;
- Natural or Physical Science—one approved laboratory course that employs the process of scientific inquiry; and,
- Social Sciences—two courses in the social sciences

Course work for the Columbian College general education curriculum is distributed as follows:

- Arts—one approved arts course that involves the study or creation of artwork based on an understanding or interpretation of artistic traditions or knowledge of art in a contemporary context;
- Global or Cross-Cultural Perspective—one approved course that analyzes the ways in which institutions, practices, and problems transcend national and regional boundaries;
- Humanities—one approved humanities course that involves critical thinking skills (in addition to the one course in this category required by the University General Education Requirement);
- Local or Civic Engagement—one course that develops the values, ethics, disciplines, and commitment to pursue responsible public action;
- Natural or Physical Science—one approved laboratory course that employs the process of scientific inquiry (in addition to the one course in this category required by the University General Education Requirement; and,
- Oral Communication—one course in oral communication.

Certain courses are approved to fulfill the requirement in more than one of these categories.

Courses taken in fulfillment of the Columbian College general education curriculum may also be counted toward majors or minors. Transfer courses taken prior to, but not after, admission to George Washington University may count toward the University general education requirement and Columbian College general education curriculum, if those transfer courses are equivalent to GW courses that have been approved by the University and the College.
