

MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IN THE FIELD OF CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION, INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES CONCENTRATION

The master of arts in education and human development in the field of curriculum and instruction with a concentration in interdisciplinary studies program is comprised of three core courses and 21 elective credits. The student and a faculty advisor collaborate to address the student's career goals through a customized program of study. As part of the elective credits, students may earn a 12-credit graduate certificate in assessment, testing, and measurement in education; international education; literacy education; or TESOL.

Students in this program also can enroll in and receive a graduate certificate in either:

- Assessment, Testing, and Measurement in Education (ATM) (<http://bulletin.gwu.edu/education-human-development/educational-leadership/certificate-assessment-testing-measurement/>)
- Curriculum Writing, Evaluation, and Development (<http://bulletin.gwu.edu/education-human-development/curriculum-pedagogy/certificate-curriculum-writing-evaluation-and-development/>)
- Incorporating International Perspectives in Education (IPE) (<http://bulletin.gwu.edu/education-human-development/educational-leadership/certificate-incorporating-international-perspectives/>)
- Literacy Education (<http://bulletin.gwu.edu/education-human-development/curriculum-pedagogy/certificate-literacy-education/>)
- Teaching English Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) (<http://bulletin.gwu.edu/education-human-development/curriculum-pedagogy/certificate-teaching-english-speakers-other-languages/>)

Certain credits are applied toward both the master's degree and the certificate.
