GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN ORGANIZATIONAL LEARNING AND CHANGE

This certificate provides an in-depth understanding of how a learning focus helps organizations improve their performance and create sustainable change. This is one of the largest programs of its kind in the United States. It is active in advancing research and practice within the human resource development field. Each course in the program is part of the existing curriculum for the master’s degree in human resource development.

Upon completion of the certificate, students may choose to continue in the master’s program, at which time they would be required to submit an application and meet entrance requirements. All coursework completed in the certificate will transfer into the master’s program. The certificate in organizational learning and change is a four-course (12 credits total) program that can be completed in two semesters.
