MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IN THE FIELD OF EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP AND ADMINISTRATION

Offered in both classroom and distance learning formats, the M.A.Ed.&H.D in the field of educational leadership and administration program prepares students for various school-based and central office leadership positions, supervisory positions, and increased responsibility in teaching. The program is designed to prepare graduates for advanced levels of professional responsibility in diverse educational communities and to increase their technical, conceptual, political, and leadership skills. Emphasis is on leadership and management, change, communication, organizational learning, administrative and legal issues, human relations, human resource development, general supervisory principles and responsibilities, and supervision of instruction.

The program includes courses and field experiences designed to meet administrative certification requirements in the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, and other states that honor interstate compact agreements.

Specific admission requirements are shown on the Graduate Program Finder. (http://www.gwu.edu/all-graduate-programs) Visit the program website (http://gsehd.gwu.edu/programs/educational-leadership-administration-0) for additional information.

REQUIREMENTS

The following requirements must be fulfilled: 30 credits in required courses.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Required</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6222 Instructional Needs Analysis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6240 Fundamentals of Educational Leadership and the Change Process</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6232 Supervision and Evaluation of Instruction</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6234 Site-Based Leadership: K-12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6244 School-Community Relations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6236 School Law and Policy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6114 Introduction to Quantitative Research</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EDUC 6246 Seminar: Applied Educational Administration</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

EDUC 6287 Internship: Administration (taken twice)