MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IN THE FIELD OF REHABILITATION COUNSELING

The master of arts in education and human development in the field of rehabilitation counseling degree program offers both a 48-credit and a 60-credit track.

The 48-credit master of arts in education and human development in the field of rehabilitation counseling degree program prepares highly knowledgeable students to become professional practitioners assisting persons who are physically, mentally, emotionally, or socially disabled to become empowered and to assume or to resume their place in society. This program leads to licensure and public and private employment opportunities.

The 60-credit program is similar to the 48-credit program, but adds four courses consistent with the requirements for certification as a rehabilitation counselor and licensure eligibility as a professional counselor. This program prepares graduates to design, develop, and evaluate rehabilitation counseling services in order to best meet the needs of persons with disabilities in their professional counseling settings. Students learn to apply foundational rehabilitation counseling principles and to develop a counseling plan of services. Program graduates are eligible for both certification (certified rehabilitation counselor) and state licensure.

Areas of concentration include autism spectrum disorder, traumatic brain injury, and psychiatric disabilities and substance abuse.

Specific admission requirements are shown on the Graduate Program Finder. Visit the program website for additional information.

The following requirements must be fulfilled: A minimum of 48 credits for the regular program or a minimum of 60 credits for the program with licensure eligibility.

The regular program also offers optional concentrations in autism spectrum disorders, substance abuse and psychiatric disabilities, and traumatic brain injury.
