Tuition and Fees

Tuition

For undergraduates entering GW in academic year 2020-21 or 2021-2022, tuition for full-time* undergraduate study for students entering Columbian College of Arts and Sciences, GW School of Business, Elliott School of International Affairs, Milken Institute School of Public Health, and School of Engineering and Applied Science is $59,780.

The fixed-rate tuition remains in effect as previously stated for undergraduates in the schools listed above for those who entered GW in 2019-20 ($56,845); 2018-19 ($55,140); 2017-18 ($53,435); and 2016-17 ($51,875).

Half-time and part-time undergraduate students are charged $1,995 per credit starting fall 2021. Non-degree students are charged $1,995 per credit starting fall 2021.

Tuition stated here excludes undergraduate programs in professional studies, nursing, and health sciences. Applicable rates for the College of Professional Studies, School of Nursing, and health sciences programs in the School of Medicine and Health Sciences are available on the Student Accounts Office website (https://studentaccounts.gwu.edu/undergraduate-tuition/).

Tuition for students admitted to the BA/MD program are indicated in the letter of admission.

The schedule of tuition and fees adopted for graduate programs for the academic year 2021-22 appears on the Student Accounts Office website (https://studentaccounts.gwu.edu/graduate-tuition/).

- A full-time program is defined as 12 to 18 credits per semester. Undergraduates taking more than 18 credits per semester are charged at the rate of 1 credit for each credit exceeding that limit, with the exception of students in the School of Engineering and Applied Science, who are not charged for the 19th credit if required by their program.

Student Association Fee

Undergraduate students entering in the fall 2021 semester and all graduate students are assessed a nonrefundable student association fee of $3.00 per credit to a maximum of $45.00 per semester. Returning undergraduate students are assessed the fee as follows: for those who entered GW in 2021-22—$3.00 per credit to a maximum of $45.00 per semester; 2020-21—$3.00 per credit to a maximum of $45.00 per semester; 2019-20—$3.00 per credit to a maximum of $45.00 per semester; 2018-19—$3.00 per credit to a maximum of $45.00 per semester; 2017-18—$2.75 per credit to a maximum of $41.25 per semester.

Housing and Dining

The fee structures for University housing and dining plans can be found at Campus Living and Residential Education (https://living.gwu.edu/) and GW Campus Dining (http://gwcampusdining.com/) websites.

Continuing Research

All master’s and doctoral students who have completed their required number of credits (including coursework and thesis or dissertation research) must register each subsequent fall and spring semester for 1 credit of Continuing Research as specified by the regulations of the school concerned.

Payment of tuition for thesis or dissertation research entitles the candidate, during the period of registration, to the advice and direction of the member of the faculty under whom the thesis or dissertation is to be written. Accepted dissertations and theses are submitted electronically; the student pays a processing fee directly to ProQuest.

Additional Course Fees

Some courses carry additional fees, such as a laboratory or material fee, which are charged by semester. The amount appears in the Schedule of Classes (http://my.gwu.edu/mod/pws/).

Postdoctoral Study

Those who have graduated from George Washington University with a PhD, EdD, DSc, or DEng may continue studies in the University without payment of tuition (contingent upon the availability of space) and may enjoy all University library privileges. Such graduates pay the prevailing charge for 1 credit in order to establish their active membership in the University. The graduate pays for the use of laboratory or special library material. Special arrangements for such privileges must be made with the dean two months in advance of the semester in which the graduate wishes to register. Postdoctoral work taken under this privilege may not be taken for credit.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

Students who register for courses in any semester incur a financial obligation to the University. Tuition and fees are due and must be paid in full by the first day of the University semester as indicated on the Academic Calendar (http://bulletin.gwu.edu/academic-calendar/); students on the monthly payment plan are exempt from this regulation. The University reserves the right to revoke the registration, effective to the beginning of the semester, of any student who fails to make full payment; however, failure to attend classes does not exempt students from their financial obligation. Students whose registration privileges have been disallowed for failure to make timely payments are not permitted to attend classes and may not occupy University housing.

Department of Veteran Affairs Payments

GW students who are eligible to receive benefits from the Department of Veteran Affairs (VA) under Chapter 31 Vocational Rehabilitation and Services (VR&E) and/or Chapter 33 Post 9/11 GI Bill must submit a request for certification for each semester or summer session in which they elect to receive funding. Once the certification is approved, GW will not impose any penalty upon students unable to meet their financial obligations to the University due to delayed tuition and fees payment and/or delayed disbursement funding from the VA. This includes, but is not limited to, assessing late fees, denying access to classes, libraries or other institutional facilities, or requiring any covered students to borrow additional funds to cover past due balances caused by delays in VA funding.

Monthly Payment Plan

This payment plan is open to all students and is available on a semester basis, with four-month plans for the fall and spring semesters and a three-month plan for the summer session. To participate in the plan, students must be registered for classes and enroll in the plan before the start of the applicable semester. Upon enrollment in the plan, students pay a non-refundable payment plan set up fee. The monthly payment plan for the fall semester begins in July and ends in October, the spring semester plan begins in December and ends in March, and the summer session plan begins in April and ends in June. Under the plan, all payments are due on the 10th of each month; if payments are received by that date, no interest or late fees will be incurred. Students who enroll in the plan after the first month of scheduled payments must make up all payments retroactive to the first month of scheduled payments as a down payment on the plan. No additional fees will be charged while the student is actively participating in the plan; missed payments will result in the deactivation of a student’s plan and the accrual of interest and late fees. After the first day of the semester, all plans will be updated to reflect the student's actual remaining balance, less pending financial aid.
Any balance remaining at the conclusion of the payment plan are subject to interest and late fees. For more information, see the monthly payment plan (http://studentaccounts.gwu.edu/monthly-payment-plan/) page.

Third-Party Payment

The University accepts employer vouchers or purchase orders that are not contingent upon receipt of grades. Under all circumstances, the charges for tuition and fees remain the responsibility of the student. Authorization from a sponsor to be billed for a student’s charges must be received in the Student Accounts Office by the end of the first week of the fall or spring semester. A late authorization fee may be incurred for responses received after the deadline. Bills are mailed to sponsors in October for the fall semester and in February for the spring semester. Should a sponsor fail to remit payment to the University, the University will contact the student for payment. Students whose employers or sponsors reimburse them for tuition and fees after receipt of grades must pay in full before the first day of the semester or at the time of registration to avoid interest, late fees, holds, and/or cancellation of registration. Students whose employers or sponsors reimburse them for tuition and fees after receipt of grades must pay in full before the first day of the semester or at the time of registration to avoid interest, late fees, holds, and/or cancellation of registration. Students whose payment is returned unpaid by the bank for any reason will be charged a returned payment fee and will be responsible for any associated costs and/or attorney’s fees incurred by the University should a civil lawsuit or other collection effort be instituted to collect on such dishonored payment. This fee will also be charged to students who initiate a successful chargeback, in addition to the processing fee. An account hold will be in place for 10 days after subsequent payment is made. If multiple payments are returned, the University may require all future payments to be made with certified funds. In any case where the University has reason to believe that a student presented a dishonored payment in bad faith, the University may, in addition to any collection efforts, refer the matter to the proper authorities for criminal prosecution.

Withdrawals and Refunds

Applications for withdrawal from the University or from a course after the registration period must be made in accordance with procedures outlined under University Regulations (http://bulletin.gwu.edu/university-regulations/) in the sections Complete Withdrawal from the University and Adding, Dropping, and Withdrawing from Courses, respectively.

Financial aid recipients must notify the Office of Student Financial Assistance (https://financialaid.gwu.edu/) in writing. The tuition deposit required of entering students will not be refunded.

In the case of authorized withdrawals and changes in registration schedule, cancellations of semester tuition charges and fees will be made in accordance with the following schedule:

1. Complete withdrawal from all courses:
   - Withdrawal dated on or before the second week of the semester: 100%
   - Withdrawal dated on or before the end of the third week of the semester: 60%
   - Withdrawal dated on or before the end of the fourth week of the semester: 40%
   - Withdrawal dated on or before the end of the fifth week of the semester: 20%
   - Withdrawal dated after the fifth week of the semester: None

2. Partial withdrawal: If the change in workload results in a lower tuition charge, the refund schedule above applies to the difference.

3. Regulations governing student withdrawals as they relate to University housing and dining services charges are contained in the specific lease arrangements.

Certain programs or courses or those with non-traditional semesters may have special refund schedules. Students are encouraged to consult with their program office to determine if a special schedule applies.

Federal regulations require that financial aid recipients use refunds to repay financial aid received for that semester’s attendance. This policy applies to institutional aid as well.
If a recipient of federal financial aid withdraws from the University or reduces their workload, federal regulations require that the University reevaluate the student’s eligibility to determine the amount of aid the student is allowed to retain. If there is a credit balance on the student’s account after the federal funds have been adjusted, institutional funds will be recovered from that amount.

See the University’s complete Return of Title IV funds policy (http://go.gwu.edu/returntitleivpolicy/).

In no case will tuition be reduced or refunded because of the student’s absence from classes. Authorization to withdraw and certification for work done will not be provided to a student whose account is not in good standing.
