MASTER OF ARTS IN THE FIELD OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

The field of international affairs addresses the key challenges and opportunities that affect the lives of billions of our fellow human beings. Globalization of economic, political, social, and cultural activity has created new opportunities and challenges for tomorrow’s leaders in international affairs. Rarely have we lived in such an uncertain world, one in which the need for increased international understanding and cooperation has become essential, not simply necessary.

Course offerings in the program draw heavily on the various academic departments of the university. Students in the MA in international affairs program begin with a core field of three to five courses in political science, economics, and history and move on to major fields focusing on global issues or regional areas. Skills courses and a capstone course on a contemporary policy issue connect academic coursework directly to practical applications.

The MA program in international affairs makes the most of the Elliott School’s location within a few blocks of the White House, the U.S. Department of State, the World Bank, and the International Monetary Fund.

<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Spring: October 1st - Fellowship &amp; Application Deadline</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Applications for admission will continue to be accepted on a rolling basis after the fellowship deadlines have passed, but students will not be considered for fellowships.

Standardized test scores: GRE/GMAT test-optional

Recommendations required: Two (2) letters are required. Applicants should submit one (1) academic letter from a professor and one (1) professional reference.

Prior academic records: Transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended, whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Unofficial transcripts from all colleges and universities attended should be uploaded to your online application. Official transcripts are required only of applicants who are offered admission and choose to enroll.

If academic records are in a language other than English, English language translations must be provided. The English translations alone should be uploaded into the online application. Official transcripts and certified English translations will be required of applicants who are offered admission and choose to enroll.

Statement of purpose: All applicants are required to submit an essay of approximately 500 words that answers one of the two questions below:
- Please discuss an issue of international importance you wish to address in your professional career. Please include how the Elliott School and the academic program to which you have applied will prepare you to address this global issue.
- OR -
- State your purpose in undertaking graduate study at the Elliott School. As part of your statement of purpose, describe your academic and research interests, career objectives, how a degree from the Elliott School will enable you to achieve your goals, and what unique skills, talents and/or perspectives you will bring to your program. Please be specific.

Additional requirements: A resumé or curriculum vitae is required. Resumés/CVs must include dates of employment (if applicable) and date of degree conferral or expected degree conferral.

Prerequisites: Academic coursework in a foreign language, which will prepare students to complete the program’s language requirement*, is required at the time of application. This can be demonstrated by:
- Study that is equal to four semesters of university level coursework or equivalent.
- Completion of formal language training as part of employment (ex. Peace Corps, JET, etc.).
- Growing up in a household where the language is spoken.

*Students need to have a strong foundation in a foreign language before enrolling to be successful in completing the language requirement during the program.

Course background in economics (micro- and macroeconomics) is a prerequisite to help prepare students to complete the graduate-level economics course(s) required within the M.A. in International Development Studies curriculum. Course(s) must be successfully completed through an accredited institution in:
- Introductory Microeconomics
- Introductory Macroeconomics
In some cases, a student may be admitted who has not fulfilled the economics requirement*; in which case, the student is required to take course(s) at an accredited college/university prior to enrollment at the Elliott School.

*Spring applicants are expected to have fulfilled this prerequisite at the time of application.

International Applicants may be required to submit official English Language tests scores with their application. Please see the Elliott School’s English Language Requirements for guidance on whether you need to take the TOEFL/IELTS/PTE. Please send official TOEFL scores to institution code 5246.

The minimum English Language Test Requirements can be found below:

Electives (9 to 12 credits)

Three to four elective courses, which may include up to 6 credits of foreign language study, a second field of expertise, or other relevant coursework. Students are strongly encouraged to take a research methods course.

*Additional information regarding skills courses (https://elliott.gwu.edu/professional-skills-courses/), the capstone (https://elliott.gwu.edu/global-capstone/), and the thesis (https://elliott.gwu.edu/thesis/) is available on the Elliott School website.

Concentrations

Students in the master of arts in the field of international affairs program must complete a concentration by taking at least four courses (12 credits) selected from one of thematic or regional concentrations listed below. Specific requirements are listed under the "Concentrations" tab. Students are encouraged to discuss their course selections with their faculty adviser.

Foreign language proficiency requirement

Students in the master of arts in the field of international affairs program are required to demonstrate proficiency in a modern language other than English. Students may fulfill this requirement in one of the following ways:

- Having earned a minimum grade of B in a sixth-semester university-level advanced language course completed no more than three years prior to matriculation in the Elliott School’s master’s degree program.
- Having earned a minimum grade of B in a sixth-semester university-level advanced language course at GW, or in an approved course taken at another institution of higher learning, including Elliott School exchange partner institutions, while enrolled in the Elliott School master’s program.
- Passing the Elliott School-administered foreign language proficiency reading and speaking examination at the currently-required level of proficiency. (https://elliott.gwu.edu/foreign-language-proficiency-requirement/) The Elliott School administers foreign language proficiency examinations once in the fall and once in the spring semesters. Students should plan to take the language proficiency examination as soon as possible following their matriculation in the program. Students have three opportunities to pass the examination. Failure to pass the examination for a third time results in dismissal from the program.

• Achieving the required proficiency level in a reading and speaking examination administered by an Elliott School-approved foreign language assessment institution, at the student’s expense, while enrolled in the Elliott School’s Master’s Degree Program.

• Demonstrating the required foreign language proficiency level in a foreign language professional skills course offered through the Elliott School. The instructor tests the student during the course (https://elliott.gwu.edu/foreign-language-proficiency-requirement/) to determine if the required proficiency level has been achieved.

As of fall 2018, the above policy applies to new and current students in the Elliott School’s non-regional studies master’s programs with a foreign language requirement. Consult the Program Director for more information.
