

ASSOCIATE IN SCIENCE IN THE FIELD OF HEALTH SCIENCES LABORATORY TECHNOLOGY

Admission to the associate in science (AS) in health science laboratory technology (HSLT) (<http://smhs.gwu.edu/military-affiliated-programs/as-mlt/>) program is restricted to students who have completed the MLT I: certificate in health sciences laboratory technology (<http://smhs.gwu.edu/military-affiliated-programs/cert-mlt/>) at GW within the past five years. The program offers Army and Navy medical laboratory technicians (MLTs) the opportunity to enhance their skills, obtain the credentials to pursue advanced study, and be eligible for promotion within the military.

Visit the military affiliated programs website (<http://smhs.gwu.edu/military-affiliated-programs/>) for more information.
