The bachelor of professional studies in integrated information, science, and technology (BPS in IIST) is a degree completion program that requires successful completion of 120 credits, 60 of which must be completed at GW. Up to 60 credits can be transferred from coursework taken at other regionally accredited institutions of higher education. The program is designed for individuals who currently hold an associate’s degree or have earned at least 60 credits towards their undergraduate degree.

Students completing this program will have satisfied GW’s university-wide general education requirement, which includes 22 credits in the following areas:

- Mathematics or statistics (3 credits)
- Natural or physical science with lab (4 credits)
- Humanities (3 credits)
- Social and behavioral sciences (6 credits)
- Written communication or composition (6 credits)

*Not all core courses are offered each year. Please see department for course availability.
