MASTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH IN THE FIELD OF HEALTH POLICY

Program Director  T. Burke

Practicum Directors  L. Cartwright-Smith, T. Burke

Mission Statement
The Department of Health Policy of the Milken Institute School of Public Health is an intellectual and practice-oriented community in the Nation’s capital dedicated to advancing innovative and effective health policy education, research, and service to improve public health and health services domestically and globally.

We are committed to:

- offering a cutting-edge, multidisciplinary curriculum that provides students with deep content knowledge and the analytic, communication, and professional skills needed to be the next generation of health policy leaders;
- conducting rigorous multidisciplinary research that addresses significant health challenges, is objective, and is translated to inform and impact health policy and public health practice;
- being a trusted resource for shaping and advancing health policy options because of our research rigor, the real-world health policy leadership experiences of our faculty and staff, our deep expertise regarding a wide range of policy issues, and our exceptional students;
- leveraging our unique location which allows for strong collaborations with health policy leaders and practitioners in Washington, D.C.;
- improving the health and health care of underserved and vulnerable populations;
- learning from the diversity among our faculty, staff, and students in terms of background, experience, and thought.

Overview
The Department of Health Policy is the home for health policy studies and research at the Milken Institute School of Public Health (SPH). The Department focuses on virtually all facets of U.S. health policy related to both public health and health services, and emphasizes preparing students to understand and analyze health policy matters in a broad, cross-cutting, and real-world context. Among schools of public health, the Milken Institute SPH Department of Health Policy is unique, having been created to take maximum advantage of its location in Washington, DC, the nation’s health policy-making epicenter. The MPH in Health Policy is for students who wish to develop in-depth policy analysis skills for use in various practice settings, including both federal and state levels of government, private-sector health policy consulting, and not-for-profit advocacy. Additionally, this program is available to GW law students (the JD/MPH and LLM/MPH programs), lawyers seeking to develop expertise in all facets of health policy and practice, and to GW medical students (the MD/MPH and PA/MPH programs) who wish to enhance their clinical training with a thorough understanding of health policy.
