BACHELOR OF ARTS WITH A MAJOR IN POLITICAL COMMUNICATION

The Political Communications program at GW is the first-of-its-kind—as a student, you’ll explore the nature and political effects of our rapidly evolving media environment. Our faculty of accomplished academics and practitioners will guide you through how mass media, the internet, and new information and communication technologies are changing the political field in the United States and around the world. You’ll participate in life-changing internships around the D.C. area and beyond—our students have held internships that include blogging for Politico and the Huffington Post or media production at CNN, Fox News, and NBC’s “Meet the Press.” Our graduates have gone on to successful careers on the campaign trail, in Congress, or in offices and boardrooms around the world.

Visit the program website (https://smpa.gwu.edu/political-communication/) for additional information.

1. Students must achieve a minimum grade of C in SMPA 2102 to remain in the major.
2. SMPA 3194 may be repeated once for credit.
3. Only one 3-credit internship taken under SMPA 3197 can be counted toward the major.

Students must achieve specified grades in some courses. Consult the School of Media and Public Affairs (http://smpa.gwu.edu/) for particular grade and course sequencing requirements.

GENERAL EDUCATION

In addition to the University General Education Requirement (http://bulletin.gwu.edu/university-regulations/general-education/), undergraduate students in Columbian College must complete a further, College-specific general education curriculum—Perspective, Analysis, Communication (G-PAC) (https://advising.columbian.gwu.edu/general-education-curriculum-gpac/) as well as the course CCAS 1001 First-Year Experience. Together with the University General Education Requirement, G-PAC engages students in active intellectual inquiry across the liberal arts. Students achieve a set of learning outcomes that enhance their analytical skills, develop their communication competencies, and invite them to participate as responsible citizens who are attentive to issues of culture, diversity, and privilege.

Coursework for the CCAS G-PAC requirement is distributed as follows:

- After successful completion of UW 1020, 6 credits distributed over at least two writing in the discipline (WID) courses taken in separate semesters. WID courses are designated by a "W" appended to the course number.

Coursework for the CCAS G-PAC requirement is distributed as follows:

- Arts—one approved arts course that involves the study or creation of artwork based on an understanding or interpretation of artistic traditions or knowledge of art in a contemporary context.
- Global or cross-cultural perspective—one approved course that analyzes the ways in which institutions, practices, and problems transcend national and regional boundaries.
- Local or civic engagement—one approved course that develops the values, ethics, disciplines, and commitment to pursue responsible public action.
- Natural or physical science—one additional approved laboratory course that employs the process of scientific inquiry (in addition to the one course in this category required by the University General Education Requirement).
- Humanities—one additional approved humanities course that involves critical thinking skills (in addition to the one course in this category required by the University General Education Requirement).
- CCAS 1001 First-Year Experience

Certain courses are approved to fulfill GPAC requirements in more than one category.

Courses taken in fulfillment of G-PAC requirements may also be counted toward majors or minors. Transfer courses taken prior to, but not after, admission to George Washington University may count toward the University General Education Requirement and G-PAC, if those transfer courses are equivalent to GW courses that have been approved by the University and the College.

Lists of approved courses in the above categories are included on each undergraduate major’s (http://bulletin.gwu.edu/arts-sciences/#majortext) page in this Bulletin.

SPECIAL HONORS

In addition to the general requirements stated under University Regulations, in order to be considered for graduation with Special Honors, students with a 3.7 GPA in all courses completed at GW and in all courses required for the major may declare for Special Honors in political communication at the beginning of the senior year. Students take SMPA 4199 Senior Seminar in the first semester of the senior year and SMPA 4198 Special Honors Research Seminar in the second semester. To achieve Special Honors, the student must maintain the required GPA and present a successful oral defense of a research paper prepared for the Honors Research Seminar before a committee that includes the seminar instructor and two other faculty members nominated by the student and approved by the seminar instructor.
