GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCE POLICY

GW’s environmental resource policy (ENRP) program offers a multidisciplinary approach to environmental and sustainability studies. The master of arts in ENRP prepares students to enter environmental policy careers in government, nonprofit organizations, the private sector, and environmental advocacy groups. ENRP is built on a curriculum that includes environmental economics, environmental law, public policy, research methods, and a two-semester environmental science course. The program blends theory and practical experience with a professional, client-oriented capstone project, academic credit for relevant internships and research, and a wide range of DC-based internship opportunities.

This is a STEM-designated program.

Visit the program website (https://tsppa.gwu.edu/certificate-environmental-resource-policy/) for additional information.

ADMISSIONS

Admission deadlines:
- Fall - July 1
- Spring - November 1

Standardized test scores: GRE is not required.

Prior academic records:
Transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended, whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Unofficial transcripts from all colleges and universities attended must be uploaded to your online application. Official transcripts are required only of applicants who are offered admission.

Statement of purpose: In an essay of 250 – 500 words, state your purpose in undertaking graduate study in your chosen field. Include your academic objectives, research interests, and career plans. Also discuss your related qualifications, including collegiate, professional, and community activities, and any other substantial accomplishments not already mentioned on the application.

International applicants only: Please follow this link - https://columbian.gwu.edu/international-graduate-applicants - to review the International Applicant Information carefully for details on required documents and English language requirements. Please note: international students who require a student visa from GW are not eligible to apply for admission to the program.

Supporting documents not submitted online should be mailed to:
