DOCTOR OF EDUCATION IN THE FIELD OF CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

The doctor of education (EdD) program in curriculum and instruction explores research and reflective practice related to curriculum, teaching and learning, teacher education, and broader educational issues and policies. Doctoral students conduct research and critically examine curriculum, teaching, and learning processes and practices.

Students become part of a community that links scholars with practicing professionals, policymakers, and educational organizations. Students can also gain understanding of diverse education contexts through linkages with arts, humanities, and STEM disciplines, or through internships at education agencies and local schools.

Visit the program website (https://gsehd.gwu.edu/programs/doctorate-curriculum-and-instruction/) for additional information.

ADMISSIONS

Admission deadlines:
- Fall – Rolling admissions (January 15 to be considered for merit-based tuition support)
- Spring – Rolling admissions
- Summer – Rolling admissions

Standardized tests: Submission of GRE general test (institutional code 5246) or the Miller Analogies Test (institutional code 1047) is optional.

Recommendations: Two (2) recommendations (preferably one from a faculty member and the other from a professional supervisor)

Prior academic records: Transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended, whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Unofficial transcripts from all colleges and universities attended should be uploaded to your online application. Official transcripts are required only of applicants who are offered admission.

Transcripts from institutions outside the United States must be accompanied by an official transcript evaluation from an accredited independent evaluating agency. Please be sure you request a detailed evaluation that includes all course titles, credit hours, grade-point average (GPA), United States degree equivalency, and date of degree conferral. A list of acceptable foreign credential evaluation services are available online.

Statement of purpose: Statement of Purpose should be 750 - 1,000 words and tied to Research Practice Team or individual faculty member’s research.

Additional requirements: Applicants must hold a master’s degree from a regionally accredited institution. A resumé is required.

International applicants only: Please follow this link - https://graduate.admissions.gwu.edu/international-student-application-requirements (https://graduate.admissions.gwu.edu/international-student-application-requirements/) - to review the International Applicant Information carefully for details on required documents, earlier deadlines for applicants requiring an I-20 or DS-2019 from GW.

Supporting documents not submitted online should be mailed to:

3 to 6 credits in elective courses selected in consultation with advisor.

Comprehensive Examination

Successful completion of a comprehensive examination is required.

Dissertation

CPED 8998  Doctoral Seminar in Curriculum and Instruction (taken for 3 credits)

CPED 8999  Dissertation Research (taken for a minimum of 12 credits to meet program requirements)

An approved dissertation proposal is required.

*Prerequisite statistics courses must be taken during the master’s degree program or must be completed prior to taking required advanced courses. For students who have not had an introductory statistics course or do not feel confident in their understanding and application of basic statistical techniques (i.e., through one way analysis of variance), EDUC 6116 should be completed prior to enrolling in EDUC 8120.

DOCTORAL PROGRAM LEVEL B COURSES

Doctoral Program Level B Courses

GSEHD’s Level B research methods courses are advanced courses in a specific research methodology. All GSEHD doctoral students are required to take at least one Level B course in the methodology of their dissertation. The courses listed below are approved to meet this requirement. EDUC 8120 Group Comparison Designs and Analyses, and EDUC 8122 Qualitative Research Methods, must be completed before enrolling in a Level B course.

Some programs require more than one Level B course. Some Level B courses are taken in a predetermined sequence; for this reason, students should check each course description for prerequisites, as courses in the sequence build on others. More information regarding the Level B course sequence is available in the GSEHD Doctoral Student Handbook; students also may consult their faculty advisor or research methods faculty for additional guidance.
