Across Europe and Eurasia, powerful forces are pushing for political, social, and economic change. EU member states and their neighbors confront a host of domestic challenges ranging from economic reform and social diversity to terrorism and separatism. Russia and other members of the Commonwealth of Independent States stand at different points along the path of transition from communism to new political institutions. At the same time, a web of political, economic, security, and societal connections increasingly links the various parts of Europe and Eurasia with one another and other parts of the global community. In view of these dynamic interactions, it is essential to study Europe and Eurasia together.

The European and Eurasian studies graduate program at the Elliott School provides an interdisciplinary curriculum combining several required courses with a wide variety of additional courses and optional fields that can be selected to suit an individual student’s professional goals and intellectual interests.

The European and Eurasian Studies program is supported by the Institute for European, Russian, and Eurasian Studies and benefits from the expertise of its faculty members, who are prominent practitioners and scholars in disciplines including political science, economics, and history, with important representation from languages and literature, film studies, anthropology, sociology, and public policy.

Visit the program website (https://elliott.gwu.edu/european-and-eurasian-studies/) for additional information.

ADMISSIONS

Admission deadlines:

- Fall: January 7th - Fellowship & Application Deadline
- Spring: October 1st - Fellowship & Application Deadline

Applications for admission will continue to be accepted on a rolling basis after the fellowship deadlines have passed, but students will not be considered for fellowships.

Standardized test scores: GRE and GMAT scores are not accepted and will not be considered in the review process. Please do not submit scores.

Recommendations: (2) letters are required. Applicants should submit one (1) academic letter from a professor and one (1) professional reference.

Prior academic records: Transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended, whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Unofficial transcripts from all colleges and universities attended should be uploaded to your online application. Official transcripts are required only of applicants who are offered admission and choose to enroll.

If academic records are in a language other than English, English language translations must be provided. The English translations alone should be uploaded into the online application. Official transcripts and certified English translations will be required of applicants who are offered admission and choose to enroll.

Statement of purpose: All applicants are required to submit an essay of approximately 500 words that answers one of the two questions below:

- State your purpose in undertaking graduate study at the Elliott School. As part of your statement of purpose, describe your academic and research interests, career objectives, how a degree from the Elliott School will enable you to achieve your goals, and what unique skills, talents and/or perspectives you will bring to your program. Please be specific.

- OR -

Please discuss an issue of international importance you wish to address in your professional career. Please include how the Elliott School and the academic program to which you have applied will prepare you to address this global issue.

Additional requirements: A resumé or curriculum vitae is required. Resumés/CVs must include dates of employment (if applicable) and date of degree conferral or expected degree conferral.

Prerequisites: Academic coursework in a major European language, including Russian, which will prepare students to complete the program’s language requirement*, is required at the time of application. This can be demonstrated by:

- Study that is equal to four semesters of university-level coursework or equivalent.
- Completion of formal language training as part of employment (ex. Peace Corps, JET, etc.).
- Growing up in a household where the language is spoken.

*Students need to have a strong foundation in a foreign language before enrolling to be successful in completing the language requirement during the program.

*Spring applicants are required to have completed this prerequisite at the time of application.

International Applicants may be required to submit official English Language tests scores with their application. Please see the Elliott School’s English Language Requirements for guidance on whether you need to take the TOEFL/IELTS/PTE. Please send official TOEFL scores to institution code 5246.

The minimum English Language Test Requirements can be found below:

Electives (6 credits)
6 credits of elective courses, which may include advanced, content-based courses in a foreign language with the approval of the program director. These courses must involve more than basic language acquisition. Up to 3 credits of professional skills courses (IAFF 6502, IAFF 6503, and/or IAFF 6504) may be counted toward elective credits.

Additional thesis option

Students who wish to complete a thesis do so in addition to the capstone requirement. Students pursuing a thesis must have a minimum GPA of 3.5 and approval from the faculty member who will serve as their thesis director. Thesis students also need to complete at least one research methods course. Thesis credits are counted as elective or specialization credits with program director approval. The two 3-credit thesis courses must be taken consecutively.

1. Specific subject matter covered in special/selected topics courses varies by semester. Consult the Schedule of Classes (http://my.gwu.edu/mod/pws/) for each semester’s offerings. Topics courses not listed here may be used to fulfill program requirements if approved by the program director.

Additional information regarding skills courses (https://elliott.gwu.edu/professional-skills-courses/) and the capstone (https://elliott.gwu.edu/global-capstone/) is available on the Elliott School website.

Law School courses—Students may, with permission of their advisor, include courses in the Law School (http://www.law.gwu.edu/) in their major field. Enrolling in a LAW course also requires permission of the Law School dean of students. Students should consult the Elliott School’s Graduate Student Services (https://elliott.gwu.edu/graduate-academic-advising/) office before enrolling in LAW courses.

2. Consult the Graduate School of Education and Human Development (https://gsehd.gwu.edu/) for course availability and additional courses.

3. Consult the Milken Institute School of Public Health (https://publichealth.gwu.edu/) for course availability and additional courses.

Foreign language proficiency requirement

Students in the European and Eurasian studies program are required to demonstrate proficiency in a modern language other than English by passing the Elliott School-administered foreign language proficiency reading and speaking examination at the currently-required level of proficiency (https://elliott.gwu.edu/foreign-language-proficiency-requirement/). The Elliott School administers foreign language proficiency examinations once in the fall and once in the spring semesters. Students should plan to take the language proficiency examination as soon as possible following their matriculation in the program. Students have three opportunities to pass the examination. Failure to pass the examination for a third time results in dismissal from the program.
