

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING IN THE FIELD OF NURSE-MIDWIFERY

The master of science in nursing (MSN) in nurse-midwifery program integrates research and nurse-midwifery practice, with a strong emphasis on women’s health and primary care throughout the life-span. The program prepares graduates to be eligible to take the American Midwifery Certification Board’s (AMCB) national certification examination. The nurse-midwifery degree program is fully accredited by the Accreditation Commission for Midwifery Education (ACME).
