MASTER OF PROFESSIONAL STUDIES IN THE FIELD OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

Program Director: T. Belt

The master’s degree in political management prepares students to be successful in meeting their goals, influencing the political process, and making a positive difference in their communities, whether it be at the local, state, national, or international level.

The program curriculum guides aspiring political professionals to take their place in the emerging profession of politics. Students have opportunities to get outside the classroom and gain hands-on professional experience that they can apply immediately in their careers. They learn the strategy, tactics, and ethical principles needed for success.

The degree may be tailored to a student’s specific career goals. Optional focus areas include advocacy politics, electoral politics, and advanced political skills. Alternatively, students can work with their faculty advisor to select courses from several areas that meet individual aspirations. In addition, the program is offered with a concentration in global politics.

Classes may be completed on campus, meet Monday through Thursday evenings on GW’s main campus in Foggy Bottom. The program also may be completed online or in a hybrid format. The program can be completed in as little as one year; however, students typically take two courses each semester, and finish in 18 months to two years.

Visit the program website (https://gspm.gwu.edu/political-management/) for additional information.

Recommendations: (2) letters, preferably one academic letter from an instructor. For applicants who have graduated with their Bachelor’s degree within five years of applying, one academic letter from an instructor is required.

Prior academic records: Transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended, whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Unofficial transcripts from all colleges and universities attended should be uploaded to your online application. Official transcripts are required only of applicants who are offered admission.

Transcripts from institutions outside the United States must be accompanied by an official transcript evaluation from an accredited independent evaluating agency. Please be sure you request a detailed, course-by-course evaluation that includes all course titles, credit hours, grade-point average (GPA), United States degree equivalency, and date of degree conferral. Please see the list of acceptable foreign credential evaluation services: https://www.naces.org/members/.

Statement of purpose: In an essay of 250-500 words, state your purpose in undertaking graduate study in this field and describe your academic objectives, research interests, and career plans. Also, discuss your related qualifications, including collegiate, professional, and community activities, as well as any other substantial accomplishments not already mentioned on the application form.

Additional requirements: A resumé.

International applicants only: Please review International Applicant Information (https://www.cps.gwu.edu/international-student-admissions/) carefully for details on required documents, earlier deadlines for applicants requiring an I-20 or DS-2019 from GW, and English language requirements.
