

MINOR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

With Capitol Hill and the White House as neighbors, GW is the ideal place to study political science. Inside the classroom, students learn from a faculty of leading experts in policy issues, political behavior, and current events, while outside the classroom they benefit from ample opportunities to intern on the Hill, on political campaigns, or at government agencies. Students interested in public policy can add this focus to their major. By examining politics in depth on both a national and international scale, our graduates are well-prepared to enter a variety of careers in research, public affairs, public policy, and political campaigns. Some graduates decide to continue their education through graduate work or law school.
